"The Cask of Amontillado" Point of View Summary

Directions: Put yourself in Fortunato’s shoes. Now write a summary of the story’s events from Fortunato’s point of view. You should include in your summary Fortunato’s reactions to Montresor’s deeds as well as his attempt to understand Montresor’s behavior. Therefore your summary should either be in Limited Omniscient (with Fortunato’s thoughts and feelings) or in first person as if Fortunato is telling the story. Your summary should also include at least five vocabulary words used properly.

Due Thursday 10/18/12 *Staple this sheet to your summary!

Your summary will be graded according to the following rubric:

	Great 5	Good 4-3	Poor 2-1	Points
Summary	The summary mentions all main events from the story and is very concise and clear.	The summary is missing one main event from the story and is for the most part clear.	The summary is missing two main events from the story and is very wordy.	/5
Point of View	The summary is written in either first person or limited omniscient and clearly contains logical thoughts of Fortunato on Montresor’s behavior and actions.	The summary is written in either first person or limited omniscient and clearly contains the thoughts of Fortunato on Montresor’s behavior and actions although they do not seem logical to Fortunato’s character.	The summary is not written in either first person or limited omniscient and fails to contain the thoughts of Fortunato on Montresor’s behavior and actions.	/5
Characters	The summary clearly describes how the two main characters interact with one another throughout the text, develop throughout the narrative, and advance the plot.	The summary vaguely describes how the two main characters interact with one another throughout the text, develop throughout the narrative, and advance the plot.	The summary does not describe how the two main characters interact with one another throughout the text, develop throughout the narrative, and advance the plot.	/5
